

Subject: Cindy, are you familiar with this? 🤔

Cassidy Foodservice

Dear Cindy,

Since you're a restaurateur, you must be aware of how much of an impact a superb financial plan has on an establishment. However, 74% of operators are overwhelmed by the idea of revising their methods and have said their organizations are not improving sales.

The Cassidy Foodservice Newsletter staff has interviewed hundreds of industry C-suite executives and financial experts. This means our subscribers are educated on how to establish an effective business plan. In fact, 96% of them are able to implement a new agenda after reading three issues.

I'm so confident in our newsletter's benefits that I'm sending you a free August issue. You will receive it on the 16th of this month in your home mailbox.

If you register for an annual subscription by September 1, 2024, I'm also delighted to offer you 30% off of the price. You can do so with this link:

Subject: Cindy, why are you so stressed? 😞

Cassidy Foodservice

Dear Cindy,

Being a restaurateur is a stressful job, especially when you are understaffed. Believe me—I get it. I’ve just had three operators contact me and say they had to shut down their businesses for a couple of days this year because too many of their employees called in sick.

Are you ready for a game-changing transformation? Then why not sign up for the Cassidy Foodservice Newsletter?

Remember—according to KEC News, Cassidy Foodservice is the industry’s content leader. Our newsletter offers staffing and hiring strategies that will set you apart from your competitors. In addition, we analyze spearheading menus produced by the most renowned chefs that are broken down to the ingredients and formulations, and the latest cutting-edge tools and technologies.

We have devised an article about how our content benefits restaurateurs here. I can offer you 30% off of your annual subscription if you register by September 1, 2024, with this link:
